BELMONT COUNTY.

From the Barnswell Enterprise.

Bro. C. H. Thomas, of Belmont township, reports that he produced this season ten ears of corn thirteen pounds and thirteen ounces.

CLAYTON C. Daniel Williams has thrashed and cleaned thirteen bushels of clover seed from two acres of land this season, which we believe to be the largest yield in the county. This crop is larger in western Belmont county than it has been for several years, and the price offered is $1.50 to $2.00 per bushel.

Tobacco Business.—The tobacco crop (in Wayne township) is about all sold at prices averaging $4.00 per cwt., a slight advance over the two preceding years. At present, sheep and tobacco pay the farmer better than hogs and grain, and of course when any article advances to a paying price all hands pick it up, and overlook the market, first in sheep, then in hogs, horses, or potatoes, &c. Of hogs, pork and corn there is no scarcity.

HAND CUT.—A boy named Eugene Tannehill, son of R. H. Tannehill, Esq., had his hand severely cut last Monday. He was playing with another boy, who was flourishing a pen knife, which accidentally struck young Tannehill on the palm of the hand, cutting the tendons and muscles to the bone.

THIRD CUT.—A delicate surgical operation was performed upon a child of Stephen Naylor, near this place, one day last week. About two weeks ago, a watermelon seed accidentally lodged in its wind-pipe, and could not be removed by any ordinary method. On Wednesday last Dr. J. H. Stewart, assisted by Drs. Williams and Stewart, performed an operation upon the child, opening the wind-pipe and removing the seed. Such operations often prove fatal, but in this case the child is doing well and will likely entirely recover.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The first quarterly convention for the present year of the Christian Sunday School Association of this District, was held at Belmont, on Thursday, November 23d. Although the attendance of delegates was small, yet the convention was quite successful. The report of the Corresponding Secretary, Mr. E. Wilson, was read during the exercises of the forenoon, and it indicated quite an awakened interest in the Sunday School cause since the annual meeting in August last. It shows an enrollment of about 1,500 scholars, and a collection of over $500 for the past quarter in the District.

The convention adjourned to meet in Morrisville at such a time in February as the committee may select.

A CAPTAIN'S ROMANCE.—"Captain" was not always behind the times. Only a few days ago they had a real engagement down there. It happened in this wise: A young man, a real sweet William, took a fancy to a little duck of a girl weighing about a hundred and sixty. Her cruel "parents" would not hear of him marrying her, although he was a fine fellow, and a little duck of a girl was bent and determined on marrying the aforesaid William. With tears in her little eyes she told her cruel mamma that if she didn't get him she would die. "If I can't have him, I'll hang myself," cried the little girl.

You needn't think of it," said the cruel mother; "you shall never marry. Why, I would sooner follow you to the green grave, you little simpleton!" The daughter replied, with tears in her eyes, in this wise: "I'll marry him, by thunder, or die!" Time wore on. A certain Thursday night came. A messenger had been dispatched to have a magistrate in readiness at a certain point. The little duck was to leave the paternal nest and fly. But she didn't fly. Her little wings had been clipped. Nothing daunted, they determined to watch a favorable opportunity. The magistrate waited at the post until near midnight; then, thinking that they were something late, he went home.

Time rolled on again, one week, then another. It was thought they had given it up as a bad job or were going to try to persuade the old folks to give in. But it was only the calm that precedes the storm. One morning about three o'clock, the worthy magistrate was called out, his little bed, and was requested to get into his breeches as soon as possible, as it was a cold morning, and the happy couple were shivering over on the hill about Jaret's School House. Off they went, and sure enough there was William standing on the highest peak of the mountain, waiting for the "bride" to come along the track near the water station, when one look accidentally got under the wheel, and was terribly mangled, breaking two bones of the same. It is feared that amputation will be necessary.

Another serious accident took place on Sunday evening, by which a young man named Bruce Verne was accidentally shot with a pistol which he was handling. The contents of the instrument of death entered beneath his right eye and left a very dangerous wound.

A short time recently, the fast line ran off the track, and thus passed all the way across a bridge over Grave Creek, at the first series of short bends over the road. It was a lucky affair.

Patrick McCall died at the poor house last week. He was one of the oldest residents hereabouts. He was decently buried at the Mount Rose Cemetery.

Rev. D. V. Collins is putting a new roof upon his residence, and otherwise beautifying his appearance.

DONORAL AHEAD ON THE SHEEP QUESTION.

THANKSGIVING EVE, Nov. 28, 1871.
To the Editors of the Intelligencer:

"Donagall" township all right on the "sheep" question. James Craig sold to T. C. Cline, 40 head of the woolled sheep, (weathers) averaging a fleece of more than 140 lbs. Can "Ohio" county beat it?

HAZARD COUNTY.
From the Courier.

The public schools in the lower end of the county have suspended on account of the small snow.

BORN.—On Saturday, November 25th, a son to Col. R. H. Brown. A genuine hero.

CHARLES BROWN & SONS killed, one day last week, a steer which weighed 718 pounds net. This steer was two years and eight months old, and never was fed a particle of grain. The weight is remarkable for the attention paid.

The bed of the Mississippi River seems to be filling up at a rate which threatens, in the course of time, to seriously affect navigation during the dry season. This year, at St. Louis, while the surface of the water has been four feet and one inch above the lowest stage of water attained by the river in 1863, there was at the same time only about five inches difference in the depth of the channel. These facts, showing that the bottom of the river was more than three feet and four inches higher than it was in 1863. In 1866, the bed of the river was higher than it was ten years previous.

Milk as Food.

An investigation into the nutritive quality of milk, and the reason for its disagreeing with many adult persons, has been made by Dr. Wiegman, of Providence, R. I., and reported in the Journal of Applied Chemistry.

The results will seem novel to those who have looked on milk as a sloppy diet, not to be compared with the more solid articles we choose in preference for our food. For example, milk contains eighty-seven per cent. of water; but then a cup of milk contains seventy-five per cent. of water, and eggs contain sixty-eight per cent.

In fact, it turns out that milk, even at twelve cents per quart, is the cheapest form of animal food. Dr. Wiegman says that sirloin steak, including the bone, at thirty-five cents per pound, is as dear as milk at twenty-four cents per quart; round steak at twenty cents per pound as dear as milk at fourteen cents; eggs at thirty cents per dozen as dear as milk at twenty cents; corn beef at seventeen cents as dear as milk at fifteen cents.

A great obstacle to the use of milk as an important element of food is to be found in the fact that it cannot be used by all with impunity, often producing headache and biliousness. The cause of this seems to be that the milk undergoes in the stomach a process similar to that which accompanies the manufacture of cheese; that is, it is solidified or formed into a nearly solid "curd," the potash and soda in the milk, which were needed to render its casein soluble in its water, being taken up by the acid of the stomach. The temperature of the stomach also favors the change.

This mass of curd, which is probably manageable by the healthy digestion of a child, or of a person with whom milk has always been used as an article of diet, is a hard nut for an unaccustomed stomach to crack. The depraved gastric juice of an adult sinner finds difficulty in penetrating its gummy fastness. The contents of the stomach only half prepared, pass on into the intestines, making discomfort and trouble as they go. All this may be avoided by mixing with the milk some farinaceous food, such as bread, or rice, or corn pudding. The farinaceous particles will be so mixed through the mass of curd as to destroy its cohesion, and to make it easy for the stomach to manage it. Even with this precaution, milk should be used sparingly at the outset, and the digestion under our notice—that of a young child, for the easy digestion of milk is a trick we put aside with our childish things.

BROOKS COUNTY.

From the Seaboard News.

The Seaboard News in our midst.—We do not need to alarm our citizens, but there is no use in disguising the fact. The small-pox is evidently in our midst. A case occurred on Buffalo creek. A young man, named David Cornelius, who has been employed in Stenbenville, came home, and is now down with this loathsome disease. Another case has just come under our notice—that of a young child of Gen. Duval. He has a slight attack of it. The utmost care should be taken by our citizens to prevent its spread. Council met last evening to take into consideration some means by which the progress of this disease might be stayed, but we did not leave the particular.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A little girl, three years of age, daughter of Mr. Robert Leavoy, residing near Bethany, met with a terrible death on Tuesday last. The family had been engaged in rendering lard, and a large pot was on the floor, which the child, in stepping backward, fell into, and was so dreadfully burned as to cause its death in a few hours.

ACCIDENT.—A young man named Joseph Miller, son of Wm. Miller, residing in Cross Creek township, was out hunting yesterday. After killing a pheasant, he ran to secure it, when he fell over a rocky embankment, breaking his collar bone. He was removed to his residence, where Dr. Cooper attended to him. It is feared he is hurt inwardly.

HOGS.—Our farmers are busy killing hogs. A large number have been brought to town. Though low enough, buyers are scarce at this figure. Packers are offering four and four and a half.

Mrs. Milton R. FRESHWATER will make an application for divorce to Judge Melvin, at the commencement of the December term Monday. It will be the first divorce case ever brought in Brooks county.

ACCIDENTS.—One day last week, a young lad named Dryson, aged about ten years, met with a serious accident. He was riding on the top of a freight car, and along the track near the water station, when one look accidentally got under the wheel, and was terribly mangled, breaking two bones of the same. It is feared that amputation will be necessary.
